Honorable Robert M. McKenna
Attorney General of Washington
1125 Washington Street, S.E.
Post Office Box 40100
Olympia, Washington 98504

Re: Citizen Action Letter, RCW 42.17.400(4)
Patricia J. Davis
Citizens for a Healthy Economy

Dear Attorney General McKenna:

This letter concerns Patricia J. Davis, a candidate for Port of Seattle Commissioner Position No. 4 in the September 20, 2005 primary election and the November 8, 2005 general election, and Citizens for a Healthy Economy, which is a political committee set up to support the candidacy of Patricia J. Davis during the 2005 election cycle.

I am sending this written notification pursuant to the citizen action provisions of RCW 42.17.400(4) to inform you that I have reason to believe that Patricia J. Davis and Citizens for a Healthy Economy may have violated RCW 42.17.080(2), concerning filing reports of contributions and expenditures. I also have reason to believe that Citizens for a Healthy Economy may have violated RCW 42.17.3691(2), concerning electronic filing of campaign finance reports when annual expenditures of at least $10,000 are anticipated.

I am filing this as a citizen action letter, instead of a mere complaint with the Public Disclosure Commission, as Patricia J. Davis and Citizens for a Healthy Economy appear to be willfully disregarding their requirements for filing campaign finance reports. Over $200,000.00 has been raised to date to support the candidacy of Patricia J. Davis, between her own campaign and the efforts of the Citizens for a Healthy Economy political committee. The Port of Seattle is an important political entity, representing 1.8 million residents of King County, and imposing $62.7 million in annual property taxes for subsidy of its operations. It is outrageous that such expensive campaign efforts for this important office can be done without any reasonable attempt at proper campaign finance reporting.

I am hoping that, between your office and the Public Disclosure Commission, immediate efforts can be undertaken to ensure that Patricia J. Davis and Citizens for a Healthy Economy immediately file their overdue campaign finance reports and that they will promptly file their remaining reports when due for the remainder of the 2005 election cycle. It is especially important that, in addition to the overdue seven day pre-primary election report being filed immediately, that the 28 day and 7 day pre-general election reports be filed timely, so that the public may be aware how these campaign funds are being spent. It is also important that Citizens for a Healthy Economy file all previous and future campaign finance reports electronically, so their information is available at once.

Patricia J. Davis filed a C1 with the PDC on February 14, 2005, seeking re-election to Port of Seattle Commissioner Position No. 4 in the November 8, 2005 general election. Ms. Davis then filed as a candidate for this position in July 2005 and appeared on the September 20, 2005 primary election ballot. Ms. Davis appears to be one of the top two primary candidates and should advance to the November 8, 2005 general election.

Under RCW 42.17.080(2)(a), Ms. Davis was required to file a campaign finance report of contributions and expenditures on August 30, 2005, which was the 21st day before the September 20, 2005 primary election. This report was required to contain information on contributions and expenditures through August 23, 2005, which was the 28th day before the September 20, 2005 primary election.

However, Ms. Davis did not file her C4 campaign finance report until September 18, 2005, which was 19 days past the due date of August 30, 2005. (For some reason, Ms. Davis' C4 campaign finance report appears to include information all the way through August 30, 2005, even though the cut-off date should have been August 23, 2005.) Ms. Davis reported contributions of $128,086.50 and expenditures of $56,118.14.

Under RCW 42.17.080(2)(a), Ms. Davis was also required to file a campaign finance report of contributions and expenditures on September 13, 2005, which was the 7th day before the September 20, 2005 primary election. This report was required to contain information on contributions and expenditures through September 12, 2005, which was the 8th day before the September 20, 2005 primary election.

Ms. Davis has not filed this C4 campaign finance report yet. Today's date of September 27, 2005 happens to be 14 days past the due date of September 13, 2005.

Since Ms. Davis has qualified for the November 8, 2005 general election, RCW 42.17.080(2)(a) will require her to file two additional campaign finance reports prior to election day – a 21 day pre-general report on October 18, 2005 covering contributions and expenditures through October 11, 2005, and a 7 day pre-general report on November 1, 2005 covering contributions and expenditures through October 31, 2005.

Citizens for a Healthy Economy filed a C1PC with the PDC on April 29, 2005, stating that it was a political committee intending to support candidates for the Port of Seattle, but did not identify what candidates it would be supporting. On July 10, 2005, Citizens for a Healthy Economy gave a $10,000.00 contribution to Patricia J. Davis. Citizens for a Healthy Economy did not file an amended C1PC with the PDC until September 6, 2005 to indicate it was supporting Ms. Davis as one of its candidates.

Citizens for a Healthy Economy also concealed its $10,000.00 contribution to Ms. Davis for an extended period of time by filing incorrect campaign finance reports. On August 11, 2005, Citizens for a Healthy Economy filed a C4 campaign finance report for the period July 1, 2005 to July 31, 2005. This C4 report listed no expenditures at all, even though $10,000.00 had been contributed to Ms. Davis on July 10, 2005. This same C4 report contained a Schedule A, on which expenditures were required to be listed. This Schedule A also did not contain any mention of the $10,000.00 contribution to Ms. Davis.

Under RCW 42.17.080(2)(a), Citizens for a Healthy Economy was required to file a campaign finance report of contributions and expenditures on August 30, 2005, which was the 21st day before the September 20, 2005 primary election. This report was required to contain information on contributions and expenditures through August 23, 2005, which was the 28th day before the September 20, 2005 primary election.

Public Disclosure Commission

SEP 28 2005

RECEIVED

However, Citizens for a Healthy Economy did not file its C4 campaign finance report until September 6, 2005, which was 7 days past the due date of August 30, 2005. Citizens for a Healthy Economy reported contributions of $96,500.00 and expenditures of $12,060.21. (At least this C4 report had the correct cut-off date of August 23, 2005.)

Under RCW 42.17.080(2)(a), Citizens for a Healthy Economy was also required to file a campaign finance report of contributions and expenditures on September 13, 2005, which was the 7th day before the September 20, 2005 primary election. This report was required to contain information on contributions and expenditures through September 12, 2005, which was the 8th day before the September 20, 2005 primary election.

Citizens for a Healthy Economy has not filed this C4 campaign finance report yet. Today's date of September 27, 2005 is 14 days past the due date of September 13, 2005.

While not nearly as significant as the most recent tardy or unfiled report violations, Citizens for a Healthy Economy has also filed all its prior campaign finance reports late.

Under RCW 42.17.080(2)(c), when the 28 day and 7 day pre-election reporting rules do not apply, Citizens for a Healthy Economy was required to file a campaign finance report of contributions and expenditures on the 10th day of each calendar month, reporting all contributions and expenditures for the previous calendar month.

The first such report would have been due on May 10, 2005, for the month ending April 30, 2005. However, Citizens for a Healthy Economy did not file this C4 campaign finance report with the PDC until May 13, 2005, which was 3 days past the due date.

The next such report would have been due on June 10, 2005, for the month ending May 31, 2005. However, Citizens for a Healthy Economy did not file this C4 campaign finance report with the PDC until June 14, 2005, which was 4 days past the due date.

The next such report would have been due on July 11, 2005, for the month ending June 30, 2005. However, Citizens for a Healthy Economy did not file this C4 campaign finance report with the PDC until July 15, 2005, which was 4 days past the due date.

The next such report would have been due August 10, 2005, for the month ending July 31, 2005. However, Citizens for a Healthy Economy did not file this C4 campaign finance report with the PDC until August 11, 2005, which was 1 day past the due date.

RCW 42.17.080(2)(a) will also require Citizens for a Healthy Economy to file two additional campaign finance reports prior to election day -- a 21 day pre-general report on October 18, 2005 covering contributions and expenditures through October 11, 2005, and a 7 day pre-general report on November 1, 2005 covering contributions and expenditures through October 31, 2005.

Citizens for a Healthy Economy is required to file its campaign finance reports electronically with the PDC under RCW 42.17.3691(2), since it has always expected to spend at least $10,000.00 during 2005. The initial C3 filed by Citizens for a Healthy Economy on April 29, 2005, when it filed its original C1PC registration form, shows that it had already raised $20,000.00 in contributions as of April 26, 2005 from various donors.

Unfortunately, with one small exception, every single campaign finance report filed by Citizens for a Healthy Economy with the PDC has been on paper forms, and not electronically. In addition to clearly violating the law, this seriously impacts the public.

First of all, electronic filing allows the public to have instant access to campaign finance reports. Once they are uploaded to the PDC, they are immediately available on the PDC website. By contrast, paper reports must first be mailed, and there is a delay in time for the mail to be received by the PDC, opened by the PDC staff, and posted on the PDC website. This delay can often be three to four days, and sometimes much longer.

Secondly, electronic filing allows all the contribution and expenditure information to be loaded instantly into the PDC searchable database, also available on the PDC website. If reports are filed electronically, the public can do a quick database search to ascertain campaign donors, dates and amounts, as well as campaign expenditures, dates and amounts. This does not happen when paper reports are filed, and the public has to look at each and every individual paper report to ascertain the same information.

These two important public access policies are probably the main reason why the Legislature mandates electronic reporting for campaigns that spend at least $10,000.00.

I noticed from examining the PDC website that Citizens for a Healthy Economy had failed to comply with the electronic filing requirements. On August 19, 2005, I sent an e-mail to Robert C. Wallace and Michele Radosevich, who were listed as Treasurer and Deputy Treasurer of Citizens for a Healthy Economy on their April 29, 2005 C1PC registration form. I used Mr. Wallace's e-mail address from the C1PC and got the e-mail address of Ms. Radosevich from the Washington State Bar Association website.

My August 19, 2005 e-mail Mr. Wallace and Ms. Radosevich reminded them of the requirement for Citizens for a Healthy Economy to file its campaign finance reports with the PDC electronically. I even included a complete copy of RCW 42.17.3691 in my e-mail. I told them that Citizens for a Healthy Economy had filed all its reports on paper only, that filing electronically was not only the law but also important for public access, and requested them to file all previous and future campaign finance reports electronically. Needless to say, I have received no response from Mr. Wallace or Ms. Radosevich.

Ms. Radosevich did send a letter to the PDC dated September 6, 2005, on her Davis Wright Tremaine law firm stationery, in which she purported to apologize for not filing her previous campaign finance reports electronically. Ms. Radosevich claimed that her failure to comply with the law was due to her lack of familiarity with the electronic filing system. Ms. Radosevich represented that she would be refiling the campaign finance reports electronically as soon as she was able to learn how to file electronically.

To date, Citizens for a Healthy Economy has filed precisely one campaign finance report electronically. This was a C3 contribution report filed electronically on September 8, 2005 showing a single contribution of $500.00. Obviously, Ms. Radosevich seems to have learned how to operate the electronic filing system. However, Citizens for a Healthy Economy has not refiled any of its previous campaign finance reports electronically, nor did it file anything at all (paper or electronic) for the C4 report due September 13, 2005.

Ms. Radosevich's belated explanation of why Citizens for a Healthy Economy failed to file its campaign finance reports electronically simply is not the least bit credible. Ms. Radosevich is a brilliant and highly successful attorney at one of Seattle's largest and most prestigious law firms. Ms. Radosevich is an expert in election law, and was even retained by your predecessor last year to represent Secretary of State Sam Reed in some major litigation before the Washington Supreme Court regarding the so-called "Montana Primary" election law. To suggest that Ms. Radosevich was unaware of the electronic filing requirement, or was unable to operate its software, simply defies all believability.

If enforcement action is not commenced by filing a civil action in court in the name of the State of Washington, within forty-five days of your receipt of this written notification, I reserve my right under RCW 42.17.400(4) to give a second written notification that I will commence citizen's action in the name of the State of Washington over these matters if there has been further failure to so act within ten days of the receipt of such second written notification, and thereafter commence a civil action on my own initiative in the name of the State of Washington over these matters.

I am also forwarding a copy of this citizen action letter to the prosecuting attorney of King County, since the Port of Seattle is located in that jurisdiction. Further, I am sending a copy to the prosecuting attorney of Thurston County, since the PDC office in Olympia where campaign finance reports are required to be filed is located in that county.

Thank you for your careful attention in this matter.

Very truly yours,

PDC Compliance Memorandum

DATE: October 17, 2005

TO: File of PDC Case #06-251, Citizens for a Healthy Economy

FROM: Tony Perkins

RE: October 17, 2005 Interview Under Oath
with Michele Radosevich

On October 17, 2005, Michele Radosevich was interviewed under oath. Ms. Radosevich stated that she was personally responsible for compiling and submitting PDC reports for Citizens for a Healthy Economy. She stated that she was aware that her committee had a requirement to electronically file its contribution and expenditure reports, and was aware that this requirement was tied to the level of the committee's expenditures. She stated that she may not have been specifically aware that the expenditure level triggering this requirement was $10,000, but she was aware that it was not as high as $100,000, for example. She stated that she believed at the time that the committee could begin electronic filing when it began to spend money in earnest. She stated that her committee had not decided what candidate to support in the Port of Seattle race, or what the extent of this support would be, when it raised its initial $20,000 and registered with the PDC. She stated that the committee had decided its plans regarding candidate support by the time she left for her vacation on approximately August 11, 2005, but she was not aware of this decision at the time. She stated that at that time, she knew that a representative of the Pat Davis campaign had approached Mr. Wallace or another officer of her committee to request a contribution, but she was not aware of the committee's decision regarding this request.

Ms. Radosevich stated that she believed that the staff of Robert Wallace's office first installed the WEDS software on staff's computer on August 29, 2005, which was ten days before its first electronic report was filed. She stated that she completed installation of the electronic filing system when she returned from her vacation on September 6, 2005, but that she had reviewed the program as early as April of 2005. She stated that she did not attempt to prepare any reports electronically in the four months following this time, because she was intimidated by the complexity of the program. She confirmed that she requested the users' manual for the WEDS to be emailed to her on September 7, 2005, and that she had not previously sought assistance from PDC staff regarding her difficulties with the electronic filing system.

Regarding the late reporting on form C-3 of a $10,000 contribution on August 11, 2005, Ms. Radosevich stated that the deposits for the committee are made by Jeanette Michel, the controller of Wallace Properties, who then sends information to Ms. Radosevich by fax for reporting purposes. She stated that in this particular case, the $10,000 contribution was on the last page of this fax, and was missed by her and thus not reported in a timely manner.

In conclusion, Ms. Radosevich stated that she was sorry for and embarrassed by her committee's lapse in reporting.

OCT 10 2005

Public Disclosure Commission

October 6, 2005

Philip E. Stutzman, Director of Compliance
Public Disclosure Commission
711 Capitol Way, Room 206
P.O. Box 40908
Olympia, WA 98504

Subject: Citizens for a Healthy Economy

Dear Mr. Stutzman:

This letter responds to the allegations of Richard Pope concerning filings made with your agency by Citizens for a Healthy Economy ("Committee"). Contrary to Mr. Pope's assertions, there has been no willful disregard of PDC regulations or any effort to conceal the Committee's purpose or its contributors. On the contrary, every contribution and expenditure has been reported promptly.

What the Committee has not done is to file its reports electronically. I take the blame for this. At each filing deadline, I found myself forced to choose between trying to be timely and trying to learn WEDS. As you know, the WEDS system is not easy to use and, when I agreed to be deputy treasurer, I certainly did not envision spending several days trying to learn the system. I thought it better that the information get to you sooner rather than later, particularly when the Committee was not making any candidate contributions. Thus, the reports for April, May, and June were filed on paper, not electronically.

I filed a non-required report for July on paper and left for a three-week vacation, with a reminder to Treasurer Bob Wallace, that a report was due on August 30 for the period up to August 23. While I was gone, Mr. Pope made a complaint to the PDC, and the Committee was asked to file electronically. This apparently occurred just prior to the August 30 filing deadline. Mr. Wallace immediately applied for the electronic identification numbers, but asked for an extension in filing the August 30 C-4 because it was impossible to get the IDs and learn the system in a day. On Thursday, September 1, you sent Mr. Wallace an e-mail denying the extension and asking him to report as soon as possible. On that Thursday and Friday, September 1 and 2, Jeanette Michel, the controller of Wallace Properties, tried to learn the system and prepare the report for Mr. Wallace to submit but was unable to do so.

Public Disclosure Commission

I returned to work on Tuesday, September 6, the day after Labor Day. I talked with Jeanette and with Tony Perkins, who told me to submit our August 30 report on paper immediately and re-file it electronically as soon as possible. I mailed the paper report the same day. I also began trying to use WEDS to submit the August 30 C-4, but to no avail. I phoned Mr. Perkins, who sent me the link to the WEDS User's Manual on the PDC website. I found the manual to be no more helpful than the program itself. I was able to file a one-item C-3 on September 8, but was totally unable to figure out how to populate the proper lines on the C-4. Altogether, I spent several days' time attempting to figure out the WEDS system.

I did not understand either your e-mail or Mr. Perkins' phone call to require us to go back and re-file reports for the first three months of the Committee's existence, but simply to re-file the August 30 C-4 and subsequent reports. I did not understand, until early this week, that WEDS would not allow this and that the Committee had to input every single piece of information into the system in order to get the program to file proper reports. This has now been accomplished, thanks to Sally Parker who was able to diagnose several of the problems that prevented WEDS from producing the reports even after the information had been entered.

I believe that my difficulties with the electronic filing system are the root of almost all of Mr. Pope's specific complaints, but I will address each of them individually:

Overdue reports

Mr. Pope asserts that the Committee's first four reports were one to four days late. It is true that the Committee's first three reports were each one or two days late. Each was placed in the mail on the date it was signed, and under PDC procedures, is considered filed on the postmark date. Mr. Pope has used the date the report was received by the PDC, which is often two days after being mailed from Seattle. I recognize that it is not okay to be even one or two days late, but I have been extremely busy this summer and I do every bit of this work myself rather than delegating it to someone else. As to Mr. Pope's complaint that the August 10 report was late, it was not a required report, and in any event, was mailed on August 10.

RECEIVED
OCT 10 2005

Public Disclosure Commission

As to the 21-day pre-primary report due on August 30, the Committee asked for an extension in filing due to the need to obtain electronic filing information, and a paper report was filed on the first day I returned from vacation on September 6, which was only two business days after you told the Committee to file as soon as possible. Based on the above chronology, I do not believe the Committee was in violation of the deadline for this report.

As to the 7-day pre-primary report, I confess to not recognizing that it was due on September 13. Because I had just filed a report on September 6 and because I was focused on trying to re-file that report electronically, I did not think there was another deadline coming so soon. I realized my mistake a couple days before Mr. Pope's complaint was filed, but I still was unable to generate an electronic report. I thought I had successfully filed a report on September 30 (see attached confirmation), but I generated the report by using the summary override feature in WEDS, so I re-filed it again yesterday when I re-filed the other reports.

In evaluating this late filing, it is important to note that the Committee had not made any contributions between August 23 and September 12. It had received a single contribution and it had reported it on a C-3. Thus, the late filing had no effect on the information available to the public.

Pat Davis Support

Mr. Pope alleges that the Committee's support for Pat Davis was somehow concealed. The allegation is based on a "typo" in the paper version of the August 30 report. In my haste to get to the post office before the last mail pick-up at 7 p.m., I inadvertently wrote 7/10 rather than 8/10 as the contribution date. The check was, in fact, cut on August 10 and delivered a few days later, as is reflected in our electronic filing. It was properly not reported in the earlier filing for the month of July and properly included on the report covering the period through August 23. The Committee's C1 PC was amended at the same time the C-4 reported the expenditure on September 6.

In summary, I apologize to the Commission for my technophobia and for a number of minor mistakes. I can assure the Commission that I have sought out a couple individuals who have prior experience with WEDS to whom I can turn for help with future filings. I also can assure the Commission that I am embarrassed to be responding to a Citizen Action Letter and will do my best to strictly comply with the reporting requirements. But I would also ask the Commission to consider that the Committee has consistently and promptly reported contributions to the Committee and the Committee's single contribution to a candidate. There has been absolutely no effort to conceal the Committee's activities.

Re: Citizens for a Healthy Economy

Public Disclosure Commission

To whom it may concern:

Along with the C-4 for July, I am filing a corrected C-4 for June. I made two errors in that report that caused the total receipts to be inaccurate. First, I omitted to add in two of the three C-3s filed for the month, totalling $20,000. The contributions were reported on June 10 on C-3s but not captured on the C-4. In addition, I discovered a $10,000 check which had been deposited on June 2, but which was not reported on a C-3. I somehow failed to see and report the last page of the fax detailing our deposits that day.

Thank you for your consideration. I regret any inconvenience I've caused and I intend to be more careful in the future.

Very truly yours,

Davis Wright Tremaine LLP
